—The oration of Rev. Mr. Ford, pastor of the First Baptist church in Paris, occurred Wednesday afternoon. The sermon by Rev. Dr. Mason of Cambridge, Mass. contained prayer by Rev. A. K. B. Snell of Portland. Charge by pastor of Dr. Willard of New York. Manual of Hygiene, Rev. C. M. Haynes of Portland.

—The Boston Journal says that the execution of the B. & M. S. Railroad by the directors of the Maine Central was as rigid, searching and severe as experts can make it, and foresaw a purpose to set in array the laws against the laws of engineering, if any were to fail. There is a confident feeling, however, that the just cause of complaint against the road can be met by the railroad commissioners' work.

WEBSTER HOUSE
 232 Hanover St., Boston.
A. FISHER, Proprietor.
 FRANK S. BUCKWOLD, CLERK.

Close to hotel, pleasant rooms, good fare, and comfortable distance will be offered to the guests of the house, and no pains will be spared to make their stay agreeable. Nearly every room looks out upon the lake. The library room in the house is pleasant for those who desire to read at ease, and is furnished with books and a comfortable chair. There is a large room for the summer months, an opportunity to do so, without leaving our island, where they can enjoy the sea air and nothing is left to be desired, being to prepare coffee in a couple of rooms.

Barriages to take passengers to and from the house free of charge.

Also a fine Stable connected with the house, and good stable for transient horses.

Asks 1/2

National House,
Heddon St. E. M.

The subscriber, formerly of Franklin Mass. has taken this new and comfortable No. 1, and will surely be pained to make it in every respect exactly what the traveling public desire.

Good Service connected with the home.
